Frequently Asked Questions

Private Letters

The fees charged are based on the British Medical Association (BMA) suggested scales and our team will be happy to advise you of the charges.

We aim to have letters completed within seven working days of receiving payment.

Why are fees charged?

The government contract with GPs covers medical services to NHS patients. However, in recent years more and more organisations have been involving doctors in a wide range of non-NHS work. This work is not funded by the government, so GPs have to charge a fee to cover their time and other expenses.

Please note that some work may incur a higher fee than advertised depending on their complexity. We will inform you of any additional changes as soon as they come to light.

Fees are non-refundable if you do not meet the criteria for certain forms e.g., exemption forms. Please ensure that you do meet the criteria before submitting your form and payment.

Surely the doctor is being paid anyway?

Not all work doctors are asked to do is paid for by the NHS under the contract with GPs, therefore this work is done outside of NHS time.

This means the surgery must cover the time spent and costs - staff, buildings, heating, lighting, etc - in the same way as any small business.

Why do I pay upfront?

It is essential that we ask for full payment upfront to ensure the GPs valuable time is not wasted.

Do GPs have to do non-NHS work for their patients?

With certain limited exceptions, No.

GPs do not have to carry out non-NHS work and we reserve the right to refuse.

Why does it sometimes take my GP a long time to complete my form/letter?

Time spent completing forms and preparing reports takes place after the GP has completed the medical care of patients which will always have top priority. We aim to complete non-NHS work within three weeks of receipt of payment.

I only need the GP's signature – what's the problem?

When a GP completes a report or writes a letter it is a condition of remaining on the medical register (which allows them to practice as a doctor), that they only sign what they know to be true. In order to complete even the simplest of forms, the doctor may have to check a patient's entire medical record.

Carelessness or an inaccurate report can have serious consequences for the doctor with the General Medical Council (the doctors' regulatory body) or even the Police.
